- MyLifespan may include current or past medications, allergies, recent diagnoses (problems), physician notes, laboratory test results, diagnostic tests (such as toxicology screens), radiology and/or pathology reports and any other health information from my medical record that is accessible in the future in MyLifespan.
- MyLifespan may also include sensitive health information from the patient's medical record, which is subject to special restrictions on disclosure, such as behavioral health, substance use disorder[†], communicable diseases, HIV/AIDS, abortion, transgender services, genetic[†], family planning and reproductive health care information of the patient.
- It is the Patient's ("You" or "Your") responsibility and your Proxy to select a confidential password, to maintain such password in a secure manner, and to change such password if You or your Proxy believe it may have been compromised in any way. If You or your Proxy shares your or your Proxy's MyLifespan ID and password with another person, that person may improperly view Your health information.
- Your and your Proxy's activities within MyLifespan may be tracked by computer audit and any entries that You or your Proxy make may become part of Your medical record. Also, You and/or your Proxy's access to any information about You may be revoked by You through a written request.
- You and/or Your authorized personal representative may obtain an electronic or paper copy of Your complete medical record from your Provider, see details online at www.lifespan.org/patients-visitors/request-medical-records.

Pediatric/Child (Age 11 or younger) Sign-up to Access MyLifespan

A parent or guardian may activate a MyLifespan account for their child to have full access to their child's (age 0-11) MyLifespan account. When the child turns age 12, the parent or guardian's access will expire; a new activation and proxy assignment will be required. At that point in time, please refer to the Teen (Age 12-15) Sign-Up to Access MyLifespan section for information.
