History

RHODE ISLAND HOSPITAL

Rhode Island Hospital (RIH) is a private, 719-bed, not-for-profit, acute care hospital and academic medical center. Founded in 1863, RIH is the largest of the state's general acute care hospitals, providing comprehensive health services.

RIH is designated as the Level I Trauma Center for southeastern New England, providing expert staff and equipment in emergency situations 24 hours a day. It is a major teaching hospital for Brown Medical School.

HASBRO CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

The state's premier pediatric facility, Hasbro Children's Hospital (HCH) is the pediatric division of Rhode Island Hospital. Built in 1994, the seven-story building was designed in collaboration with doctors, nurses and other health care professionals, as well as parents and children. It has earned worldwide recognition for its family-centered environment and expert staff. It has won numerous architectural and health care related awards.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Do I need to commit to the same shift every week?

Activity in a hospital is often unpredictable, so we need to be able to know what resources we have available on a given day.

- Can I volunteer in more than one position?

Yes, as long as you can make the commitment of the agreed upon schedule.

- What type of training will I receive?

Volunteers will be trained by Volunteer Services staff, staff within the department in which the volunteer will be placed and/or seasoned volunteer trainers.

- Do you accept everyone who applies for a volunteer position?

No, we cannot guarantee a volunteer position for everyone. The needs of the hospital and volunteer roles change during the course of the year. There may not be an appropriate match or opening for all volunteers when they apply and/or interview.

- Can I volunteer in research?

Volunteer Services does not place or register volunteers in research positions.

- Can I complete my court-ordered community service hours at Rhode Island Hospital or Hasbro Children's Hospital?

No, neither hospital participates in court-ordered community service hours.

FAQs Continued...

- Can I shadow a physician?

Shadowing is outside the scope of the volunteer position and is not coordinated through Volunteer Services.

- Can I get an internship?

Internships are outside the scope of the volunteer position and are not coordinated through Volunteer Services.

- Will I get a job after completing my volunteer commitment?

While volunteering will certainly enhance your resume and provide you with valuable experience in a professional work environment, it does not guarantee employment at Rhode Island Hospital or Hasbro Children's Hospital. Employees are chosen based on their skill set, experience and education.

- Can I bring a guest when I volunteer?

No, per hospital policy, volunteers must complete the volunteer credentialing process.

- What if I need to take a break from volunteering?

Any returning volunteers who have taken a break or who have been away for three months or longer must contact Volunteer Services, as well as Employee Health, and obtain another TB test. Such volunteers are not guaranteed their same schedule. Depending on the length of the leave, Volunteer Services may require updated forms.

Agreement

1. Can you commit to the minimum time obligation of 100 hours?
2. Can you commit to the same shift, day and time each week?
3. Do you understand that after three absences, you will be removed from the volunteer roster?
4. Do you agree to wear your volunteer vest, badge and mask each time you volunteer?
5. Do you understand that placement in your desired role is not guaranteed and that you may be placed in a role that serves the greatest need to the hospital?
6. Do you understand that not all applicants are accepted as a volunteer?
